We have made progress but there is still a long way to go. Let's make distracted driving a thing of the past.

Handheld cell phone use by drivers has declined slightly in the past 8 years, from 5.2% to 2.9%.

48 states plus D.C. have enacted texting bans for all drivers. Handheld cell phone use is illegal for all drivers in 21 states plus D.C.

Congress designated April as Distracted Driving Awareness Month in 2010.

The goal is zero cell phone use by drivers.
